Primex Iceland

Primex ehf is an Icelandic marine biotech company and a global leader in sustainable production of high quality chitosan.

Primex is located in Iceland in the middle of the North Atlantic Ocean. Pristine waters surround the island, where warm water, brought up by the Gulf stream, mixes with the cold Arctic waters from the North Pole to create fruitful conditions for rich plant and animal life.

Primex manufactures chitosan from the pure source of the North Atlantic ocean where the shrimp shells of Pandalus borealis as a raw material for high quality chitosan production. Our production contributes to complete utilization of the natural resource by utilizing materials once considered as waste.

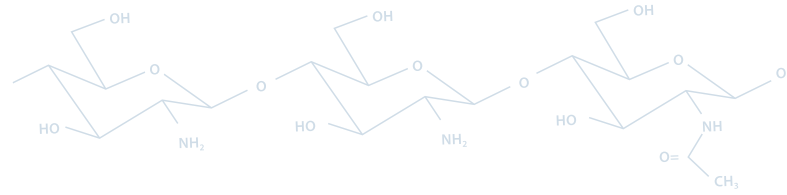

The combination of quality raw materials from untainted waters and a unique processing technology allows Primex to produce the purest and most effective chitosan on the market today.

Primex Iceland concentrates its efforts on environmentally friendly and sustainable production of natural, pure and high quality chitosan. The utilization of the marine stocks around Iceland is regulated by the government to ensure self-sustainable utilization of the natural resources.
